Hendrickson's guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

To find her not guilty, every one of you must agree that the Government has failed to convince you beyond a reasonable doubt. And either way, guilty or not, your verdict must be unanimous.

One more point about the requirement that your verdict be unanimous. The Indictment accuses the Defendant of committing the crime of Contempt in more than one possible way. The first is that she filed a 2008 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return for single and joint filers with no dependents, Form 1040-EZ which falsely reported that she earned zero wages in 2008.

The second is that she failed to file with the IRS amended U.S. Individual Tax Returns for 2002 and 2003.

The Government does not have to prove both of these for you to return a guilty verdict on this charge. Proof beyond a reasonable doubt of any one these ways is enough. In order to return a guilty verdict, all 12 of you must agree that at least one of these has been proved. However, all of you need not agree that the same one has been proved.

Now that the evidence is in and the arguments are complete, you are free to talk about the case in the jury room. In fact, it is your duty to talk with each other about the evidence and to make every reasonable effort you can to reach unanimous agreement. Talk with each other, listen carefully and respectfully to each other's views and keep an open mind as you listen to what your fellow jurors have to say. Try your best to work out your differences. Do not hesitate to change your mind if you are convinced that other jurors are right and that your original position was wrong. Ladies and gentlemen, none of you can sit in a corner and not participate in deliberations. You must participate.
