LOST HORIZONS

Where real Americans help keep the State obedient to the law, 'cause everything else is just watering the lawn while the house burns down.

WELCOME TO THE HOME OF THE LIBERATING TRUTH ABOUT THE INCOME TAX!

HERE'S THE LIBERATING TRUTH IN A NUTSHELL: The income tax is a benign, Constitutional tax that simply doesn't apply to the earnings of most people; the law, scores of United States Supreme Court rulings, and every other relevant authority all say so in no uncertain terms.

Knowing that fact, along with how the tax works, how it can be misapplied, and what can and should be done when it has been misapplied is the difference between being an exploited victim of a decades-old scheme that is a national disgrace and being a responsible, grown-up citizen of the Constitutionally-limited American republic that the Founders of this great country established for themselves and their posterity.

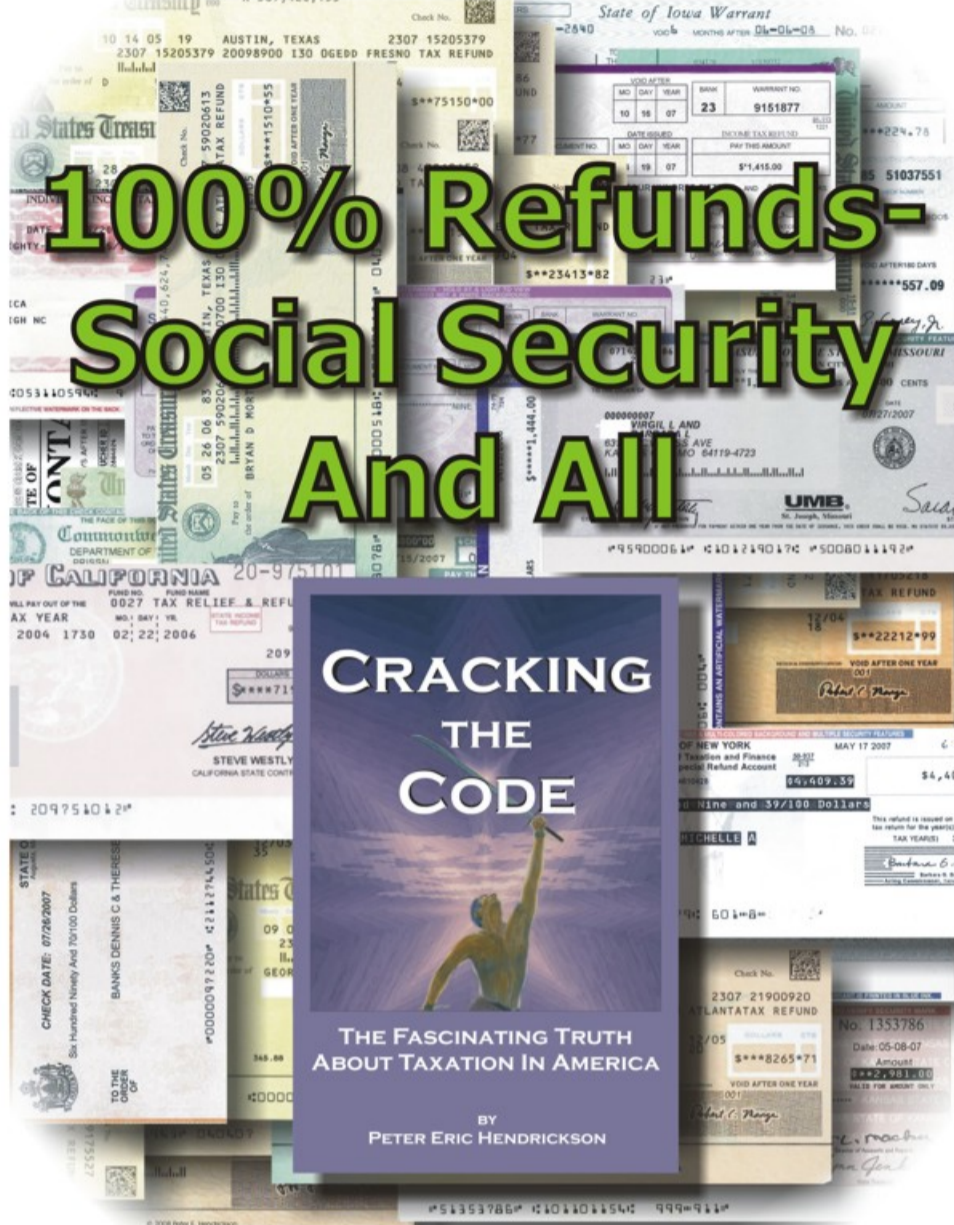

I say "responsible, grown-up citizen" because one of the key mechanisms the Founders provided in their federal Constitutional design in order to ensure that the "dangerous servant and terrible master" they were reluctantly creating stayed within its intended limits was leaving control over how much wealth the government could take directly from the citizenry entirely in the hands of each individual American. The Founders relied upon each American to use this control to enforce the limits on our servant government.

This Constitutional mechanism remains intact (the 16th Amendment notwithstanding), and all income-tax-related federal and state laws conform to that mechanism and its purpose faithfully and precisely.

I know that sounds fantastic (as in, "a fantasy"). However, the federal and state governments have been steadily acknowledging the truth of what I say for years now. Since 2003, readers of 'Cracking the Code: The Fascinating Truth About Taxation In America' (CtC), my first of three books on the law so far, have been learning the complete and accurate truth about the tax. The many thousands of these good and honorable Americans who have acted on what they have learned about the often well-concealed but nonetheless reigning laws of the land have retained or taken back well over from those governments-- including Social Security and Medicare 'contributions'. In more than a few cases, strenuous efforts have been made by these governments to resist, evade or discourage these educated citizens before finally surrendering to the plain truth about the tax and the law.

Click here to see the list of the hundreds and hundreds of these victories for the Founders' vision and the rule of law concretely displayed in the form of refund checks; notices of credit; "notice of deficiency"; lien and levy rescissions; "zero balance" transcripts; and every other beneficial consequence that attends accurate and complete knowledge of the internal revenue laws relevant to the vast majority of Americans. When you're at the list, click on any entry to reach the page where the hard, physical evidence is posted.

As I mentioned, some of these victories for the rule of law happen only after strenuous resistance by the governments involved-- but happen nonetheless, making them even more pointed evidence of the real nature of the tax. See some examples here, here and here.

ALL of these victories-- the simple, no-hassle vast majority and the minority that have had to overcome obnoxious tax-agency misbehavior-- have been happening continuously week after week for years now despite ever-increasingly-vicious disinformation and discouragement campaigns designed to suppress readership of CtC and keep more Americans from learning the liberating truth about the tax and the law that some in the political class find extremely inconvenient.

"Don't pay any attention to Joe back there...
He's just... uh... cleaning up the office...
You pay attention to me!
This 'Cracking the Code' book is nothing but FALSE and FRIVOLOUS nonsense!"

These campaigns against CtC by the IRS, the DOJ, the political hacks that have been looting America for decades and a lapdog mainstream media that is perfectly happy with the status quo are conducted because those responsible for them simply DON'T WANT YOU TO READ the book and learn the truth. The political elite LIKE spending your money (or seeing it spent in ways that suit their policy agendas), and they will stoop to anything to discourage your interest, including slanderous character assassination, fraud, and even the solicitation of judicial misconduct.

You DO need to read the book. You DO need to learn the liberating truth about the tax, like these folks have done:
