Dear Piotr & Stephanie M Bondaryk:

Thank you for your reply dated Apr. 15, 2020, to our inquiry about changes to items on your tax return.

We have sent out a 2626c letter 01/13/2020 to respond to your previous response. We have not in any way ignored your response. You must submit a document directly from the payer as previously requested.

If you don't agree with the income reported to us by the payers listed below, ask them for a corrected income statement or written verification and send it to us. The statement should show the correct amount of income they paid to you for the tax period listed above. When we receive the corrected statement or the payer's written verification from you, we'll correct our proposed changes. If the payer won't correct the document or provide written verification, tell us and explain why the payer's information is incorrect. We can't correct our proposed changes without this information.

Payer's name: Innovations Academy

Address: [REDACTED]

We're required to charge interest on unpaid tax from the due date of the return to the date you pay the tax in full. We can't reduce or eliminate interest based on reasonable cause.

If you don't agree with our changes, you can petition the United States Tax Court, but you must do so timely. We previously sent you a Notice of Deficiency dated Jan. 27, 2020, advising you how to petition for a re-determination of the amount of tax you owe, and the deadline for filing such petition. The Tax Court cannot consider your case if you file your petition late.

We received the information you sent after we issued you the Notice of Deficiency. The Notice of Deficiency advised you of the deadline for petitioning the United States Tax Court. The Tax Court cannot consider your case if you file your petition late. This letter and our consideration of the information you sent doesn't extend your time to file a petition with the United States Tax Court, if you decide to do so.

If you find information that would change your tax, you should file a Form 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return. Generally, the due date for filing Form 1040X to claim a refund is the later of three years from the due date of your original return or two years from the date you paid your tax in full. If Form 1040X shows an increase in tax, you should file it as soon as possible within three years from the date you filed your original return.

Send your signed consent or explanation by Nov. 25, 2020. You can also fax your consent or explanation to 877-477-0962. If we don't hear from you by that time, we'll continue to process the proposed changes to your tax return based on the information we have. If you have a balance due, we'll continue to charge interest and applicable penalties until you pay the balance due in full.

If you have questions, you can call Office of M Aguirre at 800-829-8310 between 7:00 AM and 8:00 PM PDT or fax us at 877-477-0962.

If you prefer, you can write to the address at the top of the first page of this letter.

When you write, include a copy of this letter, and write your telephone number and the hours we can reach you in the spaces below.
